Dear Jane,

My dear friend and a faithful supporter of our organization, Joseph, used to say that not everyone can be a light on the mission field, but each of us can be a generator that powers the light. Like Joseph, you, too, can be a generator that powers the light in Nigeria.

You have heard about our medical ministry, our revolutionary education program, our inspirational self-help projects, and our transformational church building. You have heard the stories of children who have been given a new hope for the future through a Christian Mission school. You have seen pictures of the exciting works Christ is doing through our rural mission.

What many people don't know is that these works of God are made possible by very ordinary tools: diesel for the generator and trucks, gasoline for the jeeps and motorcycles, electricity for the hospital's surgical room and the builders' tools.

Without the necessary funds to purchase fuel, we can't afford to run the generator for the hospital or send the trucks filled with building supplies for a new school or church. We can't make school benches or send coordinators to train teachers. Without fuel, we are little more than an insulated compound that reaches no one.

Diesel, gasoline, and electricity are hardly as exciting as a school feeding program or a new clinic, but without them, these life-saving ministries would not be possible. Your gift of $93 will fuel all of our ministries for half a day. That's just $186 for an entire day of life-changing work throughout all of Nigeria.

Jane, maybe you have not been called to serve directly on the mission field, but through your gift, you can be the generator that powers Christ's light. Please, send your gift today, and help us continue to shine the light in Nigeria.

Thank you for your faithful prayers and support for the work God is accomplishing through the Christian Mission. May His blessings be upon you.

His Faithful Servant,

John Smith, Mission Director
